Appraisal Purpose:

SCOPE OF WORK

Scope of Work is defined by USPAP as the work actually performed in order to develop a credible assignment result. The appraiser determined the scope of work employed in this assignment. The scope of work was dependent on the needs of the client, the intended use of the report, the definition of value used, the effective date of the report, and the subject property's relevant characteristics. The scope of work for this assignment included, but was not limited to, inspection and analysis of material provided, which may include an inspection of the subject vehicle, as well as market data research.

APPROACH TO VALUE

In this report, the Sales Comparison Approach to value was employed. In the Sales Comparison Approach, the most appropriate market is researched to locate comparable items, which have sold in the past, on which an opinion of value can be based. Adjustments in value are made to reflect differences, if any, in value-relevant characteristics between the comparable properties and the subject properties.

The Income Approach to value was not employed. In the Income Approach, anticipated future income of the investment property is capitalized in order to calculate its present worth. Since the subject property is not investment property, the Income Approach was not applied to this assignment.

The Cost Approach to value was not employed. The Cost Approach may be employed in appraisals for retail replacement value as warranted. The Cost Approach makes use of the cost to replace the subject property with a brand-new property.

INTENDED USE

The intended use of this report is to assist in establishing the value of the subject vehicle.

This report is intended for use by the named client. With the exception of the named client, and any additional intended users identified in this report or authorized expressly to the appraiser or Linden & Co. directly, this appraisal report is not intended to be used by, or influence, any particular person(s) or class(es) of person which might take some action or reliance upon it.

Unless otherwise stated, the appraiser and Linden & Co. are not aware that the client, or any identified intended users, intend to transmit any information contained in this report to any other person(s) or group(s).

Regardless of who receives a copy of this report, the liability of the appraiser and Linden & Co. is limited to the client and the identified intended users of this report to the exclusion of all others.
